

WHY IS RICK SANTORUM THE BEST CANDIDATE TO REPLACE PRESIDENT BARACK OBAMA?

Rick Santorum is the grandson of an immigrant coal miner who worked the mines until the age of 72. He modeled for Rick authenticity, commitment to family, determination and courage. After Rick's Iowa acceptance speech where voters saw his heart for workers whose jobs were going overseas, one pundit remarked it could be the first time the Republicans run a blue collar candidate. His tax plan to bring manufacturing jobs to the small towns in middle America continues to resonate.

His recent stunning Louisiana victory where he garnered 49% to Mitt Romney's 28% demonstrates his appeal to a wide range of voters, winning almost every category except those making over $200,000 a year. Rasmussen polls in four core states of Virginia, Florida, Ohio, and North Carolina show him defeating President Obama by four percentage points and Mitt Romney LOSING by four percentage points!

Why does he win even though dramatically overspent, sometimes ten to one or more? Authenticity. Huffington Post examined his writings over 20 years and stated, "Santorum is remarkably consistent". People who may not agree with all his policies nevertheless vote for him because they know he doesn't waiver from his positions for political expediency.

On the other hand Governor Jon Huntsman after dropping out of the presidential race in New Hampshire described his fellow Utahan Mitt Romney as a person -"with no core convictions" and like " a perfectly lubricated weather vane". Mitt Romney's communications director, when queried if their campaign was being drawn too far to the right, remarked they would just hit the reset button as they enter the general election, just like an Etch-a-Sketch.

At age 38, Rick Santorum managed on the floor of the Senate the Welfare Reform Act and earned confidence of his fellow Republican Senators by being selected to the third most important Republican leadership position. He championed the line item veto; balanced budget amendment and as one of The Gang of Seven, confronted his more senior Congressmen on the abuses of the House Banking and Postal services.

He authored the Iran Freedom and Security Act; the Syrian Accountability Act; served eight years on the Armed Services Committee and alerted well before others the threat of cooperation between Venezuela's Chavez and Iran's Ahmadinejad in placing Jihadi camps in South America.

Rick Santorum owns all three legs of the Reagan conservative stool.....National Security, Fiscal and Social. How many of your friends can you call to encourage them to vote Santorum April 3rd? You can also help financially by going to RickSantorum.com to donate.
